Dear Tom:

Your thoughtful and thought provoking input has been instrumental in enhancing our brand and optimizing our presence within our area of operations for over the past 4 years now.

To say that we have enjoyed working with you and your organization would be an understatement.

You, and by extension your crew, has always been on hand to offer up suggestions, value-added recommendations and cost sensitive solutions to the manner in which we have sought to market ourselves.

In light of the foregoing, I would heartily recommend you and your organization to any small to midsize business owner seeking to further enhance his or her marketing potential.

Best regards,

John S. Salomone
